

COMPETITIVE HOT ACCESS – IN REGARD TO MINORS

During racing events at Watkins Glen International, it is standard policy that no one under the age of 18 is allowed to compete in any series.

- Any exception to this policy that would allow a minor to compete at Watkins Glen International, would require a Court Order determining that the disabilities of minority are removed and recognizing the capacity of the minor individual in question to execute contracts in New York and, in particular, to execute waivers/releases of liability and to compromise claims.
 - Please note: Such Court Orders will not be considered for the IRL sanctioned Camping World Grand Prix at The Glen, or for any supporting or ancillary events scheduled that weekend.
- The Order needs to be issued by a New York State Court. It needs to reference:
 - Watkins Glen International,
 - The dates of the event, and
 - The waiver procedures for the event.
- Please note that this process may require that the minor first receive an order of emancipation or similar judicial decision from the minor's home state/country. That judicial decision would then be provided to a New York State Court for consideration.
- Every competitor is solely responsible for taking the appropriate steps to satisfy this process. Watkins Glen International is not responsible for any of the costs or delays associated with this process.
- Watkins Glen International is not providing any legal advice to any competitors. You are advised to consult your own lawyer. A Court Order that incorporates the language found on the attached sheet would be acceptable to Watkins Glen International.

Teams may choose their own lawyer, but the following lawyers are local to the Watkins Glen area, understand what is needed, and would be willing to represent competitors.
